Moser on a Journey through Modern and Historical Table Settings

Karlsbad, 4 January 2024 – Moser, a Czech glassworks with an over 166-year tradition in manual glass production, is starting the new year by participating in a trade event called MILANO HOME (11–14 January 2024). There, an exhibition with the theme of Art of the Table highlights authenticity, originality, quality and innovation. Exhibitors were carefully chosen based on these criteria and put together their exhibits under the expert supervision of Ulderico Lepreri and his team.

In Milan, Moser will present its latest collections designed by the glassworks' art director, Jan Plecháč, along with its historical heritage. Visitors of the expo will have the opportunity to see, for instance, the aquamarine Abyss vase, which embodies the modern era of Moser and the transformation of its design philosophy, or artworks from the Soul of the Forest collection, inspired by nature and its diverse structures. Alongside these new creations, the glassworks will also present its historical gems. These will include, for instance, the delicately cut Art Nouveau vases Calla and Chrysis with floral motifs or the Maharani drinking set decorated with a precise, Moser-specific cut. These works of art are in demand to this day for their timeless beauty, which is why Moser has been producing them for over a century – all by hand, using traditional glassmaking techniques, which UNESCO added to its List of Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity in 2023 to help preserve them for future generations.

About Moser

For 166 years, the products of the Karlsbad glassworks have borne the name of its founder, engraver and businessman Ludwig Moser. Based in Karlsbad (Karlovy Vary), MOSER follows in his footsteps and continues to advance traditional manual glassmaking. Its artworks, made of top-quality lead-free crystal, head to both the Czech market and abroad. In fact, the company is one of the leading Czech exporters and thus represents the skill of Czech glassmakers on the world stage. Moser is a member of Comité Colbert, an association focused on maintaining and cultivating traditional manual production of luxury products.
